Police Cooling Race Trouble at Chattanooga

By CLIFTON WELLS

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP)—Fire hoses and the threat of police billy clubs cooled tempers of thousands of racially tense Negroes and whites who stormed Chattanooga's downtown area for the second straight day.

Twenty persons — eleven Negroes and nine whites — were arrested Wednesday. Police said pistols were taken from three of them.

The mass of humanity was several times larger but the day's violence did not match the bitter fighting that flared Tuesday when gangs of belligerent white youths challenged Negro demonstrations for integrated lunch counter service.

Elsewhere in the South the situation was relatively quiet on the sidewalk front that spread from a demonstration in Greensboro, N.C., more than two weeks ago.

In Charlotte, N.C., a Negro boy and girl were served lunch at a department store counter reserved for whites. A store official said the couple's light skin apparently caused them to be mistaken for white because the store's segregated counter policy was unchanged.

Both houses of the Virginia Legislature quickly passed three trespass bills. The emergency measures were proposed by Gov. J. Lindsay Almond Jr. to thwart lunch counter sitdown by Negroes.

Tennessee already has a law on its books forbidding integrated service in restaurants.

Chattanooga officials conferred after Wednesday's disorder and announced new plans for handling the situation here.

Police Commissioner H. P. Dunlap announced that his department would not permit any large assemblies of persons to parade or congregate in the downtown area today.

Since the crowds have consisted mostly of teenagers, gathering after classes were dismissed for the day, School Supt. John W. Letson offered to keep schools in session until 6 p.m. School now dismisses at 3:30 p.m. Letson's suggestion was not put into immediate effect.

Arkansas was crippled today in the wake of a late winter storm which dumped heavy snows on the state and caused seven highway deaths.

Dead conditions throughout the state were described as dangerous and several major routes were closed.

The Experiment Station reported three inches of snow on the ground here today. It was the third heavy snowfall of the year in this area. Schools dismissed at noon Wednesday and all day Thursday. Schools will open as usual on Friday, it was announced.

Many schools cancelled classes and horse racing at Oaklawn Park was called off.

The snow ranged from two to seven inches. Occasional new falls of snow were in the outlook but the weatherman promised they would end later today.

Four high school basketball players and the father of one of the boys lost their lives in a highway wreck near Paris during a snowstorm last night.

The players were returning from a District Four tournament at Dover. They were members of the Oden High School team, which lost to Hartford 64-53.

Driver of the car was Ray Irons, 43, principal of the high school. He and his son, Gary, 15, died an hour apart at a Paris hospital early today. The other three players, Mac Spurling, 15, Kenneth

U. S. President Acclaimed by the Brazilians

By STANFORD BRADSHAW

SAO PAULO, Brazil (AP) — President Eisenhower doffed his gray felt hat and rode bareheaded in a heavy rain today to acknowledge the cheers of a half million or more fans in this industrial heart of Brazil. Confetti and ticker tape littered drenched streets.

Later at a luncheon Eisenhower extolled the free-enterprise system and pledged continued U. S. support for Brazil's economic development.

Opportunity without discrimination is a vital aspect of democracy in both Brazil and the United States, he said, and freedom in the long run yields the most productive economic system ever devised by man.

"Our socially conscious private enterprise system benefits all the people, owners and workers alike," he said. "It has resulted in high productivity, high consumption, high wages, and a reasonable return on investment. Balanced progress is our watchword."

Eisenhower pledged that "with-

Berserk Man Leaves 4 Dead, 5 Wounded

By DAVID LEHERR

UNIONTOWN, Pa. (AP) — Why sharpshooter Daniel Raymond killed four passersby and wounded five others before being shot dead himself remained a mystery today to residents in the nearby mountain community of Chalkhill.

Although Raymond's wife indicated the shooting spree was touched off by his "nervousness," there were no clear-cut answers.

State police, protected by a tank, cut down the 42-year-old Raymond with a hail of machine gun bullets as he fled his burning home, climaxing a lengthy battle. Incendiary and tear gas bombs lobbed from the tank had set the home afire.

The mountaineer saw a doctor only Feb. 16, because he was nervous, his wife said.

Raymond, a pipeline worker for a natural gas company, had a reputation among the mountain folk in this southwestern Pennsylvania area for being a crack shot.

He did his lethal shooting from a second story of his home, located about 50 feet from a rural road.

Before police shut off the road to traffic Raymond fired for nine hours at almost everything that moved—cars and trucks. Only once did he fail to fire at a moving vehicle. This was a school bus carrying about 50 youngsters.

Veteran state troopers hugged the tank as it opened fire. They too, peppered the house with volleys after volleys. Finally, the berserk Raymond tried to make a run for it. He ran a few feet, then dropped as the machine gun bullets cut through his body.

Those killed by Raymond were: Mary Frances Sissler, 61, and Edna Maes, 53, both of Ohio; William Burd, 49-year-old highway department worker from Farmington, Pa.; and May Maust of Farmington, Pa.

Wounded were: Harry Cromwell, 31, of Ohio; Lawrence Swengish, 18, of Haddonville, Pa.; Carlos Maust, 22, husband of Mrs. Maust, and two Maust children, Mary, 3, and Eddie, 18 months.

Raymond was armed with two rifles, one with a telescopic sight. Police said they probably never will know just what triggered the tragedy although Raymond had been "acting nervous." His wife said he set fire to their living room about 12 hours before the shooting began. She said he doused the fire but she was frightened and took her three children to stay overnight with neighbors.

UNIONTOWN, Pa. (AP) — A berserk gunman turned on two highway maintenance employees today, killing one and critically wounding the other.

The gunman, identified as Dan Raymond, about 42, of Chalk Hill, was shot by police.

Big U.S. Plane Was Carrying Navy Musicians

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP) — A plane carrying U.S. Navy musicians collided over Guanabara Bay here today with a Brazilian commercial plane. There were indications of 40 or more deaths in the crash of the two planes.

The collision took place in sight of Sugar Loaf Mountain. In the bay area where President Eisenhower paraded Wednesday, The President was in Sao Paulo, Brazil, today when the collision took place.

The Brazilian air force said it believed 40 men were aboard a DC4 plane carrying the Navy musicians. But in Washington (The White House said the plane carried 27 Navy band and orchestra members and a crew of 7.

Several survivors were reported, but first indications were that some of these came from the commercial plane.

The Navy plane was described as a DC4 and the commercial plane as a C47 or DC3 of the Real Line, a major domestic carrier in Brazil.

Living Costs Down So Says Government

WASHINGTON (AP) — Lower prices for clothing, new cars, eggs and most meats brought a slight decline in living costs in January.

It was the second straight monthly dip in the government's living cost index.

Even so, the index is still just a little under its record high. And, although down from December, the January living cost level was a record high for a January.

The Labor Department reported today the index dropped one-tenth of one per cent in January to 125.4, the lowest level since September but 125.4 per cent of the 1947-49 base.

The slight change will have little effect on wages of various workers whose union contracts provide for wage adjustments geared to the index.

Wages of about 60,000 workers in aircraft and farm machinery industries will be reduced, in most cases by one cent an hour.

About 14,000 trucking industry workers will receive a one-cent hour raise on a different adjustment basis.

There will be no wage change for about one million workers in the auto and related products industries.

The Labor Department also reported that spendable earnings of factory workers remained at a record high in January. This is contrary to the seasonal tendency and is despite a rise of one-half of one per cent in the social security tax.

Spendable earnings—or net pay—checks after tax deductions—averaged $82.33 a week in January for a worker heading a family of four, and $74.74 for the single worker.

Compared with a year earlier these earnings were up about $3.50 a week or 4 1/2 per cent.

Rock n Roll Goes to a Wedding

MEMPHIS (AP)—Rock 'n' roll set off an embarrassing scramble at the wedding of a waitress and a counterman in a downtown cafe yesterday when a bridesmaid bumped the juke box.

You couldn't hear him, but the Rev. David Scott didn't miss a syllable of the ritual as several persons darted about trying to unplug the blare of "In a Mansion Stands My Love."

Two light fixtures blinked off before the juke plug was located. By that time, Dorothy Pannell, 21, was within a word or two of being Mrs. Richard Abrams.

Half a dozen taxi drivers were spectators as the wedding party stood by the back table in the small cafe. A man drinking beer politely hid the bottle under his chair when the ceremony began.

Miss Pannell wore a light orchid dress, which she slipped into just before the ceremony. Abrams, changing in similar haste, wore a brown suit and tennis shoes.

"This is so rushed I didn't even have time to change shoes," he explained.

The marriage was first planned as a home affair. Then the cafe owner was stricken ill and asked Abrams, 39, and Miss Pannell to take over.

"I didn't want to postpone my wedding," said the new Mrs. Abrams.

Yerger PTA Holds Annual Banquet

The Yerger-Shover Street P.T.A. held its annual benefit banquet at Harris Gym. Tuesday February 23 at 8 p.m.

Speaker for the night was John J. Jones, business and civic leader of Texarkana.

Mr. Jones told the group to re-dedicate "our-selves as American citizens and pledge our loyalty and live up to our obligation as Americans."

He explained that youth go astray because of the lack of love in the home and that mother's love should be everlasting, abiding and true for her children.

Mr. Jones made a plea to all teachers to further qualify themselves so as to motivate and stimulate the youth to acquire a better education than today's generation have.

He said the Yerger High students has always stood out head and shoulder above the rest in the state of Arkansas. Over 100 attended.

The Brookwood "Blue & Gold" banquet that was scheduled for Friday night has been canceled.

Hope Juniors Finally Make It to Newport

The Hope Junior Bobkittens left here by train yesterday afternoon for the State Junior Tournament at Newport. They didn't arrive in Newport until 8:30 a.m. today.

First the train they were riding derailed by way of Camden because of a derailment on the Missouri Pacific somewhere between Malvern and Benton.

The Juniors arrived in Little Rock where their coach was supposed to be picked up by the MOP Eagle and pulled on to Newport.

However, the Eagle had to detour over the Cotton Belt and didn't arrive in Little Rock on schedule. There were reports here that the Eagle hit a bus on the way along the route but this couldn't be confirmed.

Meanwhile the Hope boys spent most of the night in the Little Rock yards and didn't arrive in Newport until 8:30 today.

So there probably will be a tired bunch of local boys when they play their first game this afternoon. But there is one thing in their favor: Benton, the team they are expected to play hadn't arrived at Newport by midnight.

U. S. President

In our financial and economic capacity, we shall continue to support Brazilian development. Brazil has received more than 2 1/2 billion dollars in U. S. public and private credits.

A thousand guests attended the luncheon, sponsored by the Commercial Assn., the Industrial Assn. and the Rural Society. These big trade organizations include among their members businessmen who manage branch factories for U. S. and European companies manufacturing their products here for Brazilian distribution.

Brazilians danced, jumped and shouted in the rain in their enthusiasm over Eisenhower's visit. The temperature was 70.

There was no police estimate of the crowd's size, but the best guesses ran to at least half a million. There were probably not so many as welcomed Eisenhower in Rio de Janeiro Wednesday, but the Paulistas made up for this in enthusiasm. The cities are of comparable size, about three million each.

Eisenhower flew from Rio de Janeiro under overcast skies to spend 6 1/2 hours in this Brazilian city, 220 miles southwest of Rio. He goes to Argentina Friday.

A drizzling rain started soon after the President's motorcade left the airport. It was a down-pour by the time the procession reached the Praca Bandeira, or Flag Plaza, where thousands had gathered to see him. Some had umbrellas, most did not.

Eisenhower donned a raincoat, doffed his hat and waved.

Confetti and ticker tape rained down from buildings surrounding the valley in which the central plaza is situated.

Considering the weather, it was a big turnout.

Eisenhower on arrival reported he had heard Sao Paulo is the fastest growing city in the world. He said in a brief greeting speech it was a personal pleasure to have the chance to "witness first-hand the mighty achievement of this fabulous community."

His schedule included the placing of a wreath on a memorial to Brazilians who died as soldiers in his European command in general way only, leaving the de-

World War II. Eisenhower termed this a "very special and, to me, deeply moving mission to perform in your city."

Gov. Carlos Alberto Carvalho Pinto of Sao Paulo State, Brazil's most populous and richest state, and the city's mayor, Adhemar de Barros, welcomed Eisenhower and his party at Congonhas Airport.

After military honors, Eisenhower and the governor entered an open car and moved off slowly behind a motorcycle escort for a parade through the city's streets to the governor's official residence, Campos Eliseos-Elysian Fields. Even in the vicinity of the airport spectators lined the curbs.

Fifteen minutes later, a drizzle started in the center of the city, and the sparse crowd raised umbrellas.

Around the plaza, thousands of grammar and high school children lined the route. Many of them wore school uniforms. Spectators waved flags of the United States and Brazil.

Blue-uniformed city police lined the big square, spotted at intervals about 10 feet apart.

Just before the President's car arrived, a band struck up "God Bless America."

The President's big jetliner was left in Rio, and the trusty old Columbine III was brought out for the 220-mile flight from Rio to Sao Paulo. The local Congonhas Airport is built into the side of a hill and cannot handle air-liner-size jets.

A last, over-all view of the city was arranged for Eisenhower.

The route of his motorcade from the airport lay through the picturesque residential district — the Jardim Paulista.

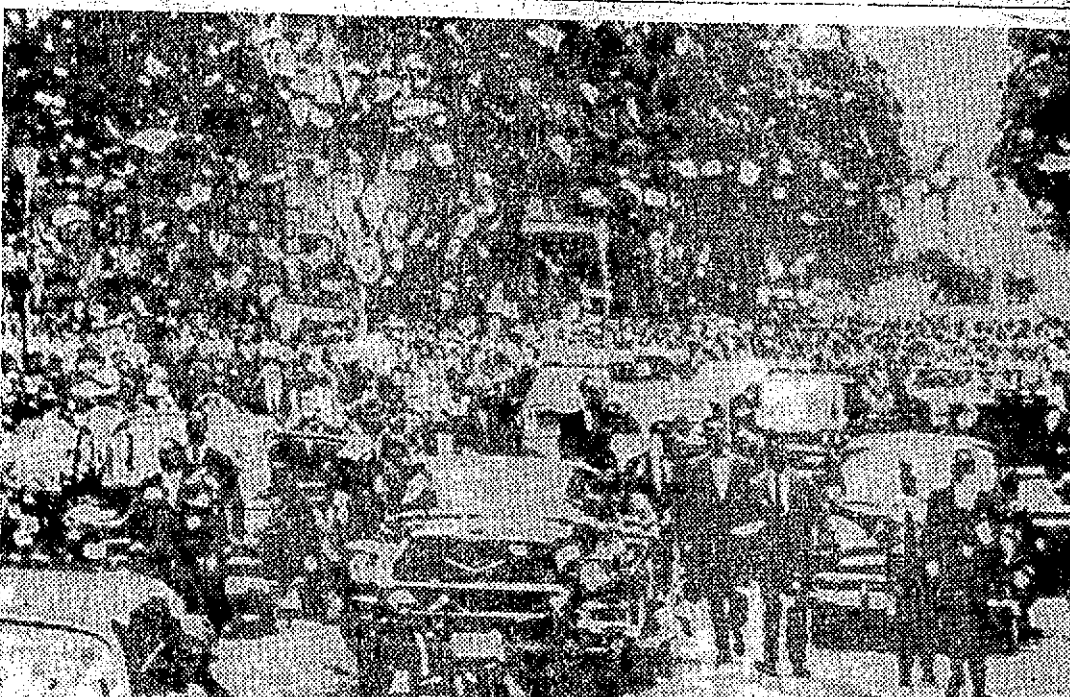

Also on the President's program was a luncheon with local industrial and agricultural leaders, at which Eisenhower was to make a short speech, and a wreath-laying at a memorial to Brazilian troops who fought in Italy in World War II, when Eisenhower was supreme allied commander.

Another undisturbed conference was arranged by Eisenhower and President Juscelino Kubitschek for the hour's trip back to Rio. But the two Presidents were expected to deal with world problems and hemispheric affairs in a general way only, leaving the de-then barricaded himself in his mountain home, about 2 miles east of this southwestern Pennsylvania community.

One trooper took his post above a grocery store about one quarter of a mile from the house. The officer had a rifle with a telescopic sight.

Sgt. H. M. Jaynes, head of the Uniontown State Police Barracks, said the officer told him he spotted what might be two other bodies lying in a field near two parked cars.

State police and sheriff deputies peppered the house with rifle shot but Raymond refused to surrender.

Almost six hours after the first victim fell dead, Raymond kept the officers at bay with his gunfire. He reportedly is a crack rifle shot.

Raymond is a pipeline walker for a natural gas company. It was not determined if anyone was inside the house with him. His wife and three children reportedly fled earlier.

Chalk Hill is a small community on heavily traveled route 40.

Killed was William Burd, 49, of Farmington, an employee of the Fayette County Highway Maintenance Department. In critical condition at Uniontown Hospital was Lawrence Swengish, 18, of Hadonville. Swengish lost his left eye. He also suffered body wounds.

TELEPHONE TALK

Fred D. Gray, Wire Chief, Hope, Arkansas

HOPE GETS NEW BUILDING AND MORE EQUIPMENT

Some of you have inquired, "What is the new building on Elm St., at the back of our present telephone building?" We are proud to say, it is a new service center which will be ready for use in the very near future. It is of brick construction, with metal carports on each end. It will be used by the Installation and Repair Forces, and the Construction and Cable Department also. There will be office space for the Construction Foreman and Facility Engineer.

Western Electric installers, completed work Friday on the new equipment they have been installing in the Central Office. The new equipment that was added will provide telephone users with better service. These are some of the items of an expansion program planned by the telephone company in Hope.

BIGGEST STORY OF ALL

The other day I saw a couple of school kids dart into Main street, unaware of an approaching telephone truck. But the driver stopped them. He stopped and waited until the youngsters crossed. Then he went on his way.

I got to thinking about this incident later. What I had seen was a quiet drama of safe driving that would never make front-page headlines the way major accidents do.

Yet here was the biggest story of all — the kids who aren't hurt crossing our streets, the accidents that don't happen.

For telephone men safe driving is a way of life. It is part of that special sense of responsibility that goes with telephone work. We call it the Spirit of Service.

WHAT'S A TELEPHONE FOR?

Some folks don't make all the use they can of their phones.

A friend and I were talking about this recently. This fellow is one of the busiest people I know. In addition to his job, he does a lot of big "do-it-yourself" projects. Not only that, he takes part in social and church events with his wife, hunts, fishes and still has time to spend with his two young sons.

"How do you manage to accomplish so many things?" I asked.

"I have help," he told me.

"How's that?"

"My two phones at home," he said. "Why, I just pick up one of them and the job's done."

My friend believes in using his phones as much as he can — for business and pleasure. If you aren't getting the most out of your telephone, you might ask yourself, "Why not?" That's what a telephone is for... to use.

Lawrence, 15, and William New, 18, died soon after the collision on Highway 22 about 10 miles east of Dover.

Four other members of the Oden team were in an auto just behind the Oden car. The second car, driven by Oden Coach Bill Abernathy, was not involved in the wreck.

Sheriff Van Pennington said the highway was slick and snow was falling when the Oden car and the truck collided. The truck driver, whose identity was not available immediately, was uninjured.

Earlier, two highway deaths were blamed on the storm. Mrs. Edna Garrison, 50, of Magnolia, was killed yesterday in an accident at McNeil Game Warden Dewey King, 40, of Yellville, died when his car collided with another auto in a blinding snowstorm near Yellville yesterday.

Schools were closed in many counties of north Arkansas, where snowfalls ranged from four inches at Fayetteville to seven inches at Walnut Ridge.

Little Rock and North Little Rock public schools opened despite a five-inch snowfall.

There were numerous reports of school closings in other sections of the state.

The storm began in central Arkansas about noon yesterday and spread north and south. Snow fell in a wide belt of the South, ranging from west Texas to eastern Kentucky.

Highway patrols in all of these states urged motorists to drive with caution.

The forecast called for occasional snow in northeast Arkansas, ending this afternoon. Continued cold was predicted through tomorrow with lows tonight from 5 to 20 degrees and highs tomorrow from the mid 20s to mid 30s.

Minimum temperatures today ranged from 16 at Fayetteville to 29 at Walnut Ridge and Pine Bluff.

This was the weather picture around Arkansas today:

ROAD CLOSINGS — State Police headquarters at Little Rock reported these highways closed: Highway 65 north of Little Rock, 67 south of Benton, 62 north of Rogers, 59 north of Siloam Springs, 68 from Springdale to Siloam Springs, 71 north of Bentonville, 100 north of Bentonville and nearly all highways in the Harrison area.

SCHOOL CLOSINGS — Schools in practically all areas of northwest Arkansas were closed, including those at Rogers, Springdale, Fayetteville and Fort Smith. All schools in the area around Harrison were closed, as were those in the Jonesboro, Newport and Blytheville areas. Other school closings were reported in south Arkansas.

SNOW DEPTHS — The Weather Bureau had these reports of snow depths early today: 7½ inches at Newport, 7 at Walnut Ridge and Clarendon, 6 at Fort Smith and Jonesboro, 5 at Pine Bluff, Little Rock, Rogers and Augusta, 4½ at Batesville, 4 at Filippin, Fayetteville and Texarkana, 3½ at Mountain Home and Booneville, 3 at Heber Springs, 2 at Dardanelle and El Dorado.

Third Victim of Tenant House Fire

TUCKERMAN, Ark. (AP) — Fire which destroyed a tenant farm house near here yesterday has claimed a third victim.

Earl Woods, 15, died last night in a Newport hospital.

His brothers, Wilson, 14, and Leon, 17, were killed in the fire. The mother, Mrs. Buchey Woods, 47, remains on the critical list at the Newport hospital.

Elvin Woods, 47, and two other children, Mary Cathline, 9, and Charles, 5, escaped with minor burns.

Authorities said the fire apparently started when Woods poured kerosene into a stove.

Woods broke down the door of the frame house and he and his wife carried the younger children to safety.

Negro in Bombing Case Makes Bond

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Maceo Antonio Binns, 31, one of two Negroes charged in the Feb. 9 bombing of a Negro student's home, was released from jail yesterday on $15,000 bond.

Herbert Odell Monts, 17, remained in jail.

The men are charged in a blast which damaged the home of Carlotta Walls, 16, one of eight Negroes attending integrated schools here. Both pleaded innocent on arraignment Tuesday. Trial dates will be set later.

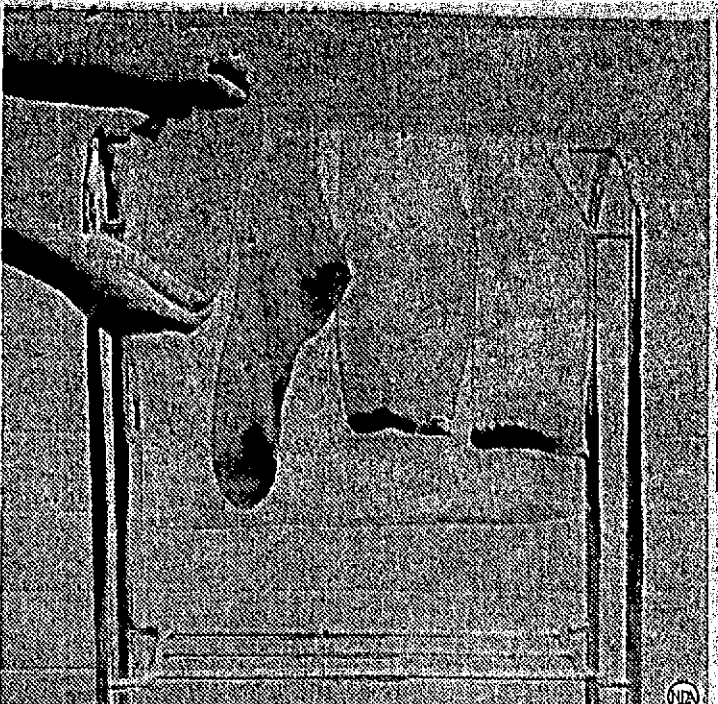

Police have refused to discuss a motive for the bombing. Prosecutor J. Frank Holt said he found no evidence to indicate a grudge between the men and the Walls family. Holt declined further comment.

Federal Jury Meets

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The federal Grand Jury of the Eastern District of Arkansas met here today.

U.S. Attorney Osro Cobb said his office had about 60 cases, mostly of routine nature, to present to the jurors.

E. E. Beaumont of Little Rock is foreman of the panel.

DOROTHY DIX

Don't Expect Normal Reactions From a Mentally Ill Husband

Dear Dorothy Dix: Eleven years ago my husband and I had to get married. I was very much in love and still am. We have three children whom we both adore and we're expecting another. He insists he is not in love with me, I asked, but he says he wouldn't give me a divorce even if I wanted it because of the children.

Recently the firm he works for had an employees' party. There was drinking and several of the men and women had affairs, including my husband, so he says. The woman told my husband to go back to his family. Our minister thought he was having a nervous breakdown. Our doctor agreed and said the cause was manic depressive, so he was hospitalized. He seemed normal and attending doctors had a hearing for sanity and said it was all right for him to come home, but he should have psychiatric care. Otherwise he could go back to work.

I feel hurt though. Should I forget about his affair? Is the hurt feeling going to stay with me? I asked my husband how he felt about us. He says he doesn't know. Is there any way you can help us look for happiness? I don't feel we should go on if we can't. I'm a nervous wreck myself now. I don't think I can go on much longer. — Mrs. G. E.

Dear Mrs. G. E.: If, as you say, your husband is a manic depressive, you can't judge him as you would a normal human being. Treat him as one sick mentally and make sure for your peace of mind that he keeps in touch with the doctor.

Dear Dorothy Dix: I am 14 and for the past nine months have been going with a 19-year-old Indian boy. My parents are aware of the fact. If they knew I wouldn't be permitted to see him. The difference in our color makes no difference to me but it might to them. — Hopeful

Dear Hopeful: Your letter distresses me — not because (he boy is Indian, but because you born cold invaded the South Plains which was covered in some areas with a seven-inch snowfall.

Snow Cripples Wide Sections Over the U. S.

Hundreds of families in East Texas were without heat or electricity because of power failures and natural gas line breaks. Scores of schools remained closed.

Snowstorms also hit eastern New Mexico, southern Oklahoma and Arkansas Wednesday. Falls ranged up to six inches in southern and central New Mexico and parts of Arkansas. The first snow in nine years fell in Texarkana, Ark.

Warnings of heavy snow — four inches or more — were issued by the Weather Bureau for areas in a band 100 to 200 miles wide from Arkansas northeast through southeast Missouri, most of Kentucky and southeast Ohio.

Rain and freezing rain which pelted northern sections of Louisiana and Mississippi and central and west Tennessee were expected to change to snow in many areas. The snow line extended into southern parts of Illinois and Indiana, with snow in prospect for other parts of the two states.

Travel slowed across the wide belt of rain and snow. Two traffic deaths in Arkansas were attributed to icy highways.

The stormy weather extended over all parts of Texas. Heaviest snow, seven inches, was in the Lubbock area in the South Plains. It was cold again in northern Midwest sections and from Colorado into parts of the nearby plains, with temperatures below zero.

Name Belies Treatment

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A blonde Greyhound model went to court Wednesday seeking temporary alimony pending trial of her suit for separate maintenance.

She said her husband beat her, hit her with a shoe, was unfaithful with 16 other women and took her jewelry away the day before Valentine's Day. She also told the judge she was so fearful of her husband that she gave him five rifles, two pistols and ammunition to her lawyer for safekeeping.

Her husband's name, Marvin H. Goodwill.

Relations of Two Allies Pleases Reds

By J. M. ROBERTS
Associated Press News Analyst

Relations between Britain and West Germany have taken a trend which must be eminently pleasing to Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev and show signs of getting worse instead of better between now and the summit conference.

On the surface the trouble revolves around the position to be taken by the Allies at the conference.

Chancellor Konrad Adenauer maintains that any compromise on the status of West Berlin ultimately would represent a threat to West Germany itself.

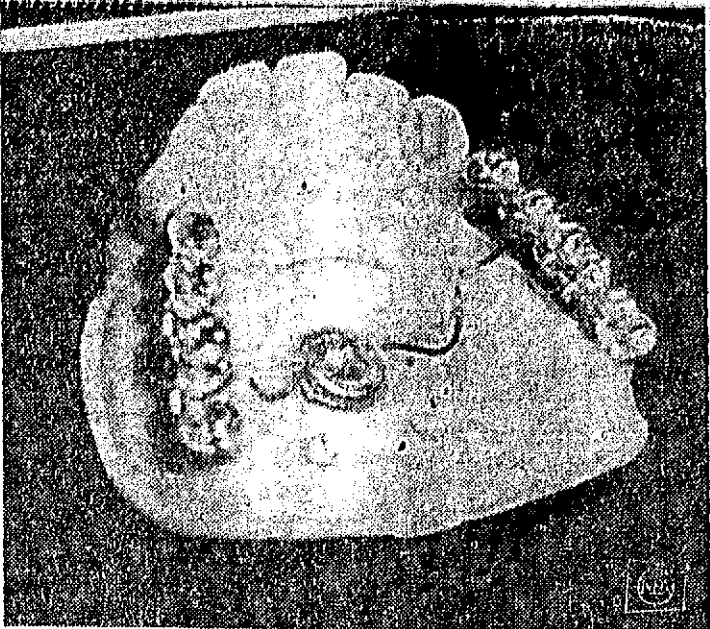

Britain thinks there is a chance of negotiating a settlement eliminating some of the Soviet complaints about Berlin as a center of espionage, propaganda, and refuge for dissident East Germans, as well as a reduction in occupation forces.

Adenauer's efforts to veto the idea have produced a strong reaction in Britain directed as much against his attitude as against the fundamentals of the situation.

In the background are two British worries. West Germany's trade recovery has carried it into strong competition for export markets.

West Germany's power in NATO has grown because of its military revival, and its economic connections with France and the rest of the continent create an incubator for a concentration of continental political power such as Britain has always feared.

The British press is screaming its head off because of what is termed a stupid German attempt to revive military ties with Spain beginning with establishment of rear-area supply bases for the German army. Both Spain and Germany have backed away

THE STORY: Phil Bokker surprises a woman searching his room in Raytown, Mo., where he is seeking information about surviving members of Quantrell's guerrilla raiders following the Civil War. Bokker was unjustly accused of having participated in one of Quantrell's raids, although he was in the Union Army at the time.

CHAPTER IV
Surprised by the savageness of her attack, Bokker was forced to defend himself. He caught an arm, but it was jerked free and her other hand raked his face. He caught that hand and she struck him with the freed hand. Her sharp, bony shoulder hit him in the chest; her knee almost drove the breath from him as it went into his stomach.

The tiny flame on the floor was out then and Bokker saw nothing of her face. For just a moment he won out over her, as his arms enveloped her. He felt her heart beating wildly, was aware that a tremor ran through her and then she was out of his grasp like a weasel, all sinew and muscle, without much bone.

Bokker lunged for her in the darkness, missed, then leaped to his feet and moved for the door. He was too late. She had whisked it open, was darting out.

Bokker followed. But only into the hall. Bokker knew that it would be a waste of time to go after her. She probably knew every nook and cranny of Raytown, and he was a stranger.

Besides, what good would it do to find her? She would tell him what she wanted to tell him and nothing more. He could not force her to talk... as he might be able to force Bill Grayson.

Her feet pounded the far end of the long, narrow corridor. A door was whipped open and she was out, descending a flight of stairs into the darkness behind the hotel.

He stood in the darkened hall a moment, then, drawing a deep breath, descended to the hotel lobby. The hotel man sat behind the desk, staring at him. Bokker nodded to Bokker as the latter crossed to the bathroom.

The place was doing a thriving business. Several card games were in progress and a half-dozen men stood at the bar. Two or three wore wrinkled white suits and had mint juleps in front of them.

Bill Grayson stood at the bar, in a little group of three, which included Lige Thomas and a heavy-set man of about 25.

There was a small clear space at the bar, and Bokker moved toward it, but before he reached it the big man spread himself and covered most of the available room.

"Excuse me," said Bokker. He tried to move into the space, but neither the heavy-set man nor his neighbor budge an inch. Bokker signaled to the bartender.

"Beer," the bartender shot a quick look at Bill Grayson, hesitated, then drew the glass of beer. There was a frown on his face as he set the glass on the bar. Bokker waited for his beer at the edge of the little group. When the glass was set on the bar, he said, "Excuse me," and shouldered the big man aside.

The man turned slowly. "You crowded me, Mister."

"I said excuse me!" replied Bokker coolly.

"Shovin' a man and sayin' excuse me ain't right," growled the heavy-set man.

Bokker swallowed his beer and looked at Bill Grayson. "He's going to do your fighting?"

Grayson had the grace to wince. "Don't know what you mean."

Bokker appealed to Sheriff Lige Thomas. "What about this, Sheriff?"

"I warned you this afternoon, Bokker," snapped the sheriff. "We don't like strangers coming here, looking for trouble."

"I'm not the one making the trouble," Bokker said.

The big man was waiting for his cue. Lige Thomas gave it to him. He said, "I don't wear my badge when I'm having a little refreshment with my friends."

"My name," said the big man, "is Charr Mechem. I ain't ever been licked."

Bokker nodded. "And you rode with Quantrell?"

A sudden hush fell upon the men in the vicinity of the bar.

Mechem's meaty hands reached out.

Bokker dashed the dregs of his beer into the big man's face, tossed the glass to the bar and smashed Mechem in the face. It was a hard blow that sent a shock up Bokker's arm, all the way to his shoulders. It barely caused Mechem to falter and

Pork Takes Spot at Markets

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Pork takes over the featured spot on many meat counters this week, with frozen pork stocks 40 per cent greater than a year ago.

Pork loins lead the list of week-end specials. In New York they are down as much as 10 cents a pound from a week ago and in Washington they are down 10 cents.

Other featured pork includes shoulders, smoked shank and slice bacon.

Beef round roast and frying chickens also are among the specials. Prices of fryers are generally down.

Leg of lamb prices are up somewhat. Butter and egg prices fluctuated.

Along the Eastern seaboard fish is featured in variety, including swordfish steaks, lobster tails, smelts, halibut steaks and scallops.

Best buys among vegetables covered a wide field — cabbage, carrots, endive, escarole, lettuce, small and medium yellow onions, eastern potatoes, sweet potatoes and turnips.

In the good-buy classification are beets, broccoli, pascal celery, mushrooms, cooking greens, green peppers and avocados. Maneuvering Fast on Civil Rights Issue
By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON (AP)—Some political maneuvering with the precision of a ballet dance is going on behind the facade of the Senate's marathon debate on civil rights legislation.

While one Dixie speaker after another cries out against what many of them call the "lynching" of the South, members on both sides are huddling behind the ornate closed doors of the cloakrooms to plot fresh political strategy.

The timing of a motion to limit debate is of paramount concern in these conferences.

The senators talked on for more than 12 1/2 hours before quitting Wednesday night, and Southerners threatened to prevent committee meetings and tie up all other Senate business in retaliation for the lengthened sessions.

The principal question facing civil rights advocates is: How long should the thus far one-sided debate be permitted to spin off the weary hours before a parliamentary move is made to curb it?

The question for Southern opponents is: How long do we have to carry the burden of talking, talking before the other side tries to demonstrate it has the votes to end our filibuster in a manner in which the folks at home can't blame us?

Pigeon Poisoning
NEW YORK (AP) — About 60 pigeons fell dead from the ledge of a six-story building in the financial district Tuesday. Similar mass deaths of pigeons last summer were attributed to poisoning caused by eating fertilizer spread on the grass in Battery Park.

Pretty Widow Screams Out Innocence When Charged With Slaying of Husband

DETROIT (AP) — "No, it isn't true," the pretty widow screamed. "How can they do that when they know it's not true. I didn't kill him."

Nelle Lassiter, 38, was near hysterics Tuesday when she was suddenly charged with first-degree murder and conspiracy in the slaying of her husband, Parvin (Bill) Lassiter, 44, friend and business associate of the slain suburban Royal Oak car dealer, who was named in a similar warrant.

Lassiter was arrested in Los Angeles where he had been working since November. He said he would waive extradition and "go back to Michigan and clear it up."

Mrs. Lassiter was arrested in the chambers of Circuit Judge Joseph Rashid. She was waiting to appear as a prosecution witness against three men the state contends murdered her husband last April 6.

Five others were named as co-conspirators but not defendants in the charge against Mrs. Lassiter and Watson. They include Roy C. Hicks, also a Lassiter business associate, and Richard W. Jones, who the state said was the intermediary in arranging the car dealer's death.

Hicks, Jones and Charles W. Nash, all of Chattanooga, Tenn., were brought to trial last week on first-degree murder charges. Jones pleaded guilty to second-degree murder last Thursday. Hicks entered a similar plea Tuesday. First-degree murder is premeditated.

Lassiter was killed after returning from a business flight. The state said he was met at the airport by the three men, taken to a lonely spot, beaten and shot to death. His body was found in a field near Willow Run airport.

The prosecution maintains Hicks set up the killing by offering the other two a $500 fee and whatever money would be found on the body. The car dealer was known to carry large sums of money but had only $320 the night he was slain.

State police Lt. Howard Whaley said his office had been convinced from the start Mrs. Lassiter and Watson were involved. He said police got a break when Jones entered his guilty plea.

Whaley said money apparently was the motive in Lassiter's slaying. Under the victim's will, Mrs. Lassiter would inherit at least $100,000 in assets, plus the couple's $50,000 home.

The Lassiters came to Detroit from Murray, Ky. She is the daughter of Henry Rhodes of Murray, a hog and cattle buyer.

Letter Did Not Reveal Much Data

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Carl Chessman, writing what he feared would be his last letter, told Gov. Edmund Brown a missing body would prove he is innocent of the crimes for which he was condemned.

The 1,500-word letter, released Tuesday by Brown, did not identify the body or tell how it would exonerate him.

Chessman, 38, said he had other evidence which, "in the absence of the body, would be by itself worthless." He termed the evidence he had "like a jigsaw puzzle."

Chessman said the body of a man, was missing when he sent a representative to look for it. He did not say where the search was.

Brown released the letter, remarking that Chessman had agreed to making it public after asking earlier that it be kept confidential.

Chessman was condemned in 1946 at Los Angeles for kidnapping with bodily harm. Among the things he was convicted of at that time was forcing two women to submit to unnatural sex acts.

The governor granted him a 60-day reprieve Friday.

Lassiter had been a drover and truck driver for Rhodes. The couple married 10 years ago.

Hawaiian Dish Says I-Love-You

Cherry Sauce, Aloha, says "I love you" every time you serve it. "Aloha" is an all-purpose Hawaiian word and one of its meanings is "I love you." The sauce combines canned tart pitted cherries and crushed pineapple. It's delightful warm over your favorite ice cream, with angel food cake wedges, as it's shown above. Serve it on elegant-looking, inexpensive glassware like the Skol pattern dishes above. Skol is one of many attractive glassware patterns available in variety stores which combine high taste and low cost. The versatile sauce recipe is good over toasted pound cake, in tart shells, or topped with whipped cream. The bright red cherries and golden crushed pineapple make a sauce that gladdens the eye as well as the palate.

Cherry Sauce, Aloha
 1 can (1 pound) red tart pitted cherries (water pack) 1/2 cup sugar
 2 tablespoons cornstarch
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 1/2 teaspoon red food coloring
 1 can (9 ounces) crushed pineapple
 Drain cherries; measure liquid. Add enough water to cherry liquid to make 1 1/4 cups. Reserve. Mix together sugar, cornstarch and salt in saucepan. Stir in cherry liquid. Place over medium heat, stirring constantly, until mixture comes to a boil. Boil 1/2 minute. Stir in red food coloring, pineapple and cherries; heat to serving temperature. Serve with angel food cake wedges and ice cream. Yield: 8 servings.

NOTE: If desired, 1 can (1 pound) frozen red tart pitted cherries may be substituted for canned cherries. Reduce sugar to 1/4 cup.

Elvis Won't Change His Singing Style

By JACK KOEHLER

BAD NAUHEIM, Germany (AP) — Elvis Presley says there won't be any change in his singing style when he returns to civilian life shortly.

"I've no reason to change," the rock 'n' roll idol and Army sergeant said in an interview Tuesday. "The people will let you know when you should."

Presley's two-year service hitch ends next month, but the Army isn't giving the exact date. It wants to avoid a repetition of the teen-age riot that greeted the singer on his arrival in Germany 17 months ago.

Elvis, now 24, said he is glad to be getting out but quickly added, "It was a good experience in many ways and I made friends I would not have made otherwise. I'm very proud of having been in the Army."

The Army apparently is satisfied with Elvis, too. "He has done remarkably well both his Army duties and off duty," said one of his commanders.

Presley has been serving with an armored division at Friedberg. He recently won his sergeant's stripes and was made leader of a scout squad.

Although he made no records in Germany, Presley said he kept abreast of music developments. "My friends in the states sent me clippings and the latest recordings to let me know what's going on back home," he explained.

He said he plans to go home to Memphis, Tenn., and make some records. About April 20 he will go to Hollywood to rehearse for an appearance on Frank Sinatra's TV show May 1. Then he will begin pre-recording for a movie, "The GI Blues."

Withholds Senate Try to End Debate

WASHINGTON (AP) — Civil rights advocates today withheld any move to shut off Senate debate in hopes that other pressures would overcome the resistance of Southern foes.

For the time being, the principal effort apparently will be directed at wearing down the Dixie forces by longer and longer Senate sessions in an election-year battle now in its second week.

Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.) and Minority Leader Everett M. Dirksen (R-Ill.) joined Tuesday in serving notice that round-the-clock sessions may start Monday in a drive to bring civil rights legislation to a vote.

Lengthening sessions were in prospect for the rest of this week. Tuesday the Senate was in session for more than 11 hours, before quitting at 10:11 p.m.

Ask Storage Space

LONDON (AP) — The government said today West German military authorities have asked for storage base facilities in Spain. A Foreign Office spokesman told a news conference: "This is a matter for NATO military authorities and the North Atlantic Council." He added that Britain will make its views known there. It was understood the Germans seek storage space for military and hospital supplies.

Demands an End to Race Bias on Job

WASHINGTON (AP) — A government committee headed by Vice President Richard M. Nixon today demanded an immediate end to racial bias in hiring of workers on construction contracts for the government.

Nixon announced a new action program was adopted unanimously this morning by President Eisenhower's committee on government contracts. He said it "has a good chance of making a breakthrough" in opening jobs to Negroes.

George Meany, AFL-CIO president, a committee member, pledged full cooperation by organized labor in cracking down on local unions that restrict memberships to white persons.

The committee unanimously adopted a resolution calling on the government contracting agencies to direct all contractors to comply immediately with clauses in their contracts barring discrimination because of race, color, creed, or national origin.

Such compliance was insisted upon particularly on federal projects in the U.S. capital area where hiring discrimination has recently stirred up a storm.

School Probe Revived

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Alfred Smith of Paragould, chairman of the board for the Arkansas Negro Boys Industrial School at Wrightsville, appeared before the Pulaski Grand Jury yesterday.

The jury is investigating a fire which killed 21 inmates at the school last March 5.

Smith was the only witness.

Still Don't Know How He Got There

HONOLULU (AP) — The Army still doesn't understand how he got there, but they rescued a young Marine from a cleft 600 feet down a cliff in the Waianae Mountains in western Oahu.

By the time an Army rescue team lowered a soldier by rope to the Leathernock's perch, Pfc. Roy W. Kocurek, 18, of La Grange, Texas, had spent two days in the cleft without food and water, shirtless and bracing his back against one wall and his feet against the other.

He was lowered 200 feet to the valley floor Tuesday and flown to Tripler Army Hospital by a helicopter which hadn't been able to get at him because of his steep perch.

His companion, Pfc. Burr C. Osbonlighter, 20, of Albany, N.Y., said they started down the cliff to retrieve a cartridge belt, hanging on a small tree which broke and prevented their climbing back up. So they started down the crevice which ended at the 600-foot level at an overhang.

Osbonlighter fought his way back out and went for help.

Satellite Spy

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A Pentagon official says a satellite that can detect troop movements and large concentrations of munitions is under development as part of America's space defense system.

Col. Carlo R. Tosti of the Air Force Air Research and Development Command told an engineers banquet Tuesday night that the strategic intelligence space vehicle would flash warnings on any mobilizations in advance of surprise attacks.

Perk Up, Good Breakfasting Ahead

Got a case of "light breakfastitis"? Don't fret, it'll go—especially if you "tie in" to a breakfast like the one pictured.

Eggs are combined with bacon and raisinbread toast to provide a good, nutritious breakfast fit to perk up anyone. And you can be sure it will help banish your "light breakfastitis" ills for good.

"Good breakfasting does not come overnight," says Kathryn B. Niles, home economics director of Poultry and Egg National Board. "And it's not a hit-or-miss proposition. Eating a good breakfast is a result of good eating habits. They come easier if the breakfasts you serve delight the eye as well as the palate."

"SOUPE AUX POIS" IS QUEBEC FAVORITE

No matter where one goes in La Province de Quebec—a private home, a tiny bistro, the swank dining spots in the elegant new Queen Elizabeth Hotel; a Canadian National Railways dining car or a small village inn—a sure bet is that the menu will include Canadian pea soup—"Soupe aux Pois Canadienne."

And here is how the housewives, as well as the hotel and dining car chefs, make this tasty and filling dish:

2 cups of dried, whole yellow peas
2 quarts of cold water
1 onion, minced
1/2 lb. of salt pork
1 tablespoon of chopped parsley or 1/2 teaspoonful of sage
1 teaspoonful of salt
Pick over the peas and wash well. Soak in cold water overnight. The next morning add the onion, salt pork and seasonings; cover, simmer for three to four hours. Add salt and pepper to taste. Slight to ten servings.

N.B. If pork is too salty, put in cold water, boil for five minutes, then drain before adding to the soup. If necessary, boil several times, draining water after each time.

Seem Money Has Always Eluded Her

BY PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK — At the risk of exciting the interest of the Internal Revenue Department, I must say that I always have been backward about money.

I could scarcely have cut my first teeth when people and things started cutting me out of my fortune.

The first hornswoggling I was submitted to came when I buried a number of pennies in the back yard sandpile, presuming they would grow. Instead they were dug up and consumed—by a hungry dog. I was advised then, but you can't kid me now.

Later my brother, who was an outright confidence boy at age six, persuaded me to trade him a dime for a nickel, on the theory that the best things come in big circumstances. When I learned the truth about that swindle I became miserly, so that the first decade, if he makes mistakes in dollar I accumulated (from digspending it, he should have to give dandelions) I framed.

By the time I used it, the value had decreased to 90 cents.

Well, I have finally learned the value of a dollar, but what good does that do you these days? The idea of 500 dollars, which is more pertinent to know the value of in cash than the money, Miss Schreiber, still confuses me, and I still er claims, by age four, he is look upon bank tellers with the same warm conviviality as I be, also, from age four, he taken into stow dentists, waiting for them to your confidence and given some remark. "Why didn't you check picture of the family's finances, with me sooner and this whole If a family shields a child from problem could have been avoid-the facts of income, or feels it's ed."

It would be nice to blame this ineptitude for income on artistic temperament, feminine emotionalism or an idealism that will not admit to the importance of being wealthy, but it can't be done. My trouble, according to an expert named Flora Rheta Schreiber, apparently is that of millions of Americans—they grew up "money-blind."

Miss Schreiber in the AMA medical magazine, "Today's Health" says that children should learn the economic ABC's during their pre-school years if they're to have a realistic view of money. In fact, she believes a child should begin receiving a weekly allowance at the age of four.

"Your child needs a regular supply of money just as he needs countant's fees the first year.

Remarks That Barbers Get Tired Of

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Remarks that barbers get tired of hearing—or overhearing.

"Well, hair today—gone tomorrow, eh Tony?"

"Just a little off the top."

"The place hasn't been the same since you let in women and quit subscribing to the Police Gazette."

"If this stuff is so good, Tony, why are you so bald?"

"Who do you like in the seventh at Hialeah today?"

"Keep it high in the back. I've got a short neck."

"Never mind the slickum—just a little water."

"I came in to get my ears lowered, Tony."

"Remember when a guy could get a shave and a haircut for two bits? Those were the good old days."

"I asked for a haircut—not a scalpning."

"Just take a little off the sides."

"Who cuts your hair, Tony—you're wife?"

"Part it down the middle, Tony. My wife says every block ought to have an alley."

"If I want your political opinions I'll ask for them."

"See any gray ones up there?"

"There ought to be a special price for us baldies. I only got half the hair I used to—and you charge me four times as much."

"Why should I have to make an appointment? Are you a barber or a brain surgeon?"

"Baldness runs in my family. My uncle looked like a bowling ball at 19."

"You took off too much. How about putting a little back on?"

"What do you do with all that hair on the floor—sell it to mattress manufacturers?"

"Be careful with the mustache. It took me a year to grow it."

"How come you barbers never elected Yul Brynner man of the year?"

"What's your hair-raising story for today, Tony?"

"Save your breath, Tony. I've got my hearing aid turned off."

ROME (AP)—Premier Antonio Segni tonight presented his government's resignation.

President Giovanni Gronchi reserved decision on accepting the resignations. The Cabinet decision to resign was made at a meeting that lasted an hour and 20 minutes.

Dipped Marshmallows Make News

The candy dish is almost as hard to keep filled as the cookie jar — but fortunately just as much fun too! For reserve energy during a busy day, as a treat for chores well done or for a soda party as shown here, these Fudgmallows and Carmallows are confections that stand high on our list of sweet favorites. The big, puffy marshmallows are dipped in a caramel sauce — just like you use for apples — or a fudge sauce made from a bag of fudge candy, and rolled in chopped nuts. They're chewy, and oh so good!

Carmallows
28 caramels
2 tablespoons water
Melt the caramels with water in double boiler or over low heat, stirring often until smooth. Drop the marshmallows, one at a time, into hot sauce and turn with a fork until covered. Chill on well greased baking sheet a few minutes until firm.
For an extra special treat, roll immediately in chopped nuts before chilling.

Fudgmallows
28 pieces chocolate fudge candy
1 tablespoon water
24 jet-puffed marshmallows
Melt the fudge with water in double boiler or over low heat, stirring often until smooth. Complete as directed for Carmallows.

Says Service Men Getting Bad Training

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. (AP) — A qualified charge that American servicemen are getting totalitarian training was made Tuesday night as members of the National Council of Churches General Board gathered for a meeting today.

The charge came from James Wine, associate general secretary of the council. He also said a subversive influence may have been responsible for an Air Force manual which said there is Communist infiltration of American churches.

The General Board, which meets here for two days, is expected to get a report from its policy and strategy subcommittee, which heard Wine's resume of the situation. Afterward he issued a statement containing his charges.

Wine said there is "the possibility—suggested by an apparent attitude that recurs in various manuals of the U.S. Air Force—that within the military departments of the United States government, there are those who have on occasion attempted to carry out a completely un-American, in fact a totalitarian, indoctrination of their regular and reserve personnel."

In a subsequent interview Wine said the controversial Air Force Reserve training manual could well have been inspired by a subversive influence.

The manual — rescinded last week by the Air Force—included paragraphs charging Communist infiltration of churches; Communist party membership by some ministers; and Communist front influence on a subcommittee of the National Council which drew up the revised standard version of the Bible.

Wine would not label the material either Communist or Fascist-inspired, but said, "I would say it is definitely subversive."

Peace Champion Now

BALTIMORE (AP) — Nikita S. Khrushchev is a champion of peace. But he is only so, added Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower Monday night, because he wants the applause of the Russian people, who in turn want peace. The Johns Hopkins University president made his remarks at an alumni association dinner before leaving for Puerto Rico to join his brother, President Eisenhower.

Doc in Dress Shop

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (AP) — It wasn't a bull in a china shop but a doe in Margaret Logan's dress shop.

The frolicsome deer charged through a window Tuesday, scampered among the dresses and knocked Miss Logan down. It tried to jump through a floor-length mirror and left its hoof prints on wall-to-wall carpeting.

Finally Miss Logan opened the door. The deer returned to the nearby hills.

Queen Doing Fine

LONDON (AP) — Queen Elizabeth, who gave birth to a son last Friday, is getting up for short periods and walking about her room, it was learned at Buckingham Palace today. Two of her doctors, Lord Evans and Sir John Weir, visited the 33-year-old Queen today. No more bulletins are being issued, but it was understood that both the Queen and her son are in excellent condition.

Bomb Blamed for Carolina Plane Crash

By GEOFFREY GOULD

WASHINGTON (AP) — Government sleuths say they've pinned down the cause of the North Carolina plane crash that killed 34 persons Jan. 6: It was a dynamite bomb.

They say furthermore that the bomb, set off by a dry cell battery, exploded near the seat of Julian Frank, a young Westport, Conn., attorney who carried a million dollars in life insurance.

There was a hint the tragedy might have been the result of a conspiracy by two or more persons.

The theory that Frank committed suicide and carried every one else aboard to death with him had been voiced unofficially before, but some doubt later was expressed that a bomb had caused the crash.

James R. Durfee, chairman of the civil Aeronautics Board, told the Senate Aviation subcommittee Tuesday it has now been definitely established that a dynamite bomb caused the wreck. The CAB and the FBI are continuing their investigations, he said.

Frank's body was found on Kure Beach, N. D., along with interior cabin parts and part of the plane's fuselage skin. The plane itself traveled 20 miles further before crashing near Bolivia, N. C., where all the rest of the victims were found.

Durfee noted that Frank, 32, had taken out his insurance policies within a year preceding the accident. The beneficiary was his wife, a former magazine model and mother of their two children. The conspiracy hint came when Durfee said questions "which relate to possible criminal charges are still under investigation."

Sen. Warren G. Magnuson (D-Wash.) told a reporter Durfee's re-

Three Children Perish in Fire

BRINKLEY, Ark. (AP) — Fire yesterday destroyed a Negro home here, killing three children.

The parents and two other children awakened in time to save themselves.

Dead were Albert Johnson, 12; James Pye Jr., 6, and Marvin Stigall, 2.

Jim Stigall, his wife, their four-month-old son, Donald Stigall and Helen Aldridge, 17, Mrs. Stigall's daughter by an earlier marriage, escaped.

Johnson and Pye were Mrs. Stigall's children by other marriages. Police said the fire apparently started in a flue.

Retirement Pay Huge

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department estimates that retired military personnel will be drawing three billion dollars a year retirement pay shortly after 1975. The retirement program is costing 700 million dollars a year at present but it is due to start shooting up as those who entered service during World War II start reaching retirement age or complete 20 years of service.

Newport Man Killed

NEWPORT, Ark. (AP) — Saxon Simmons, 71, was killed instantly yesterday when he was struck by an automobile on state Highway 17 near his home in Tupelo, 12 miles southeast of here.

State Police said the car was driven by Bobby Conard, 26, also of Tupelo.

Simmons, a retired farmer, was the father-in-law of Jack Bailey, Newport High School coach.

Marked about criminal charges indicated to him the explosion might have been plotted by two or more persons. It was obvious no criminal charges could be brought against anyone on the plane, since all aboard died.

One difference Between the Sexes in America Is in the Realm of Clothing Loyalty

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—One difference between the sexes in America is in the realm of "clothing loyalty."

Most men have it. Few women do.

Most women like to get rid of an old dress as soon as possible and buy a new one. But men are just the opposite.

Where women love new clothing, men love old clothing. They cling to a well-worn suit with the field in this respect for 22 years. The morning after I carried my bride, Frances, across the threshold of our first apartment, she tried to get me to discard the suit in which I had led her to the altar.

"It was bad enough to be married in that suit," she said. "Surely you don't intend to wear it to work."

"I certainly do!" I told her firmly. "Why, I couldn't possibly throw it away. I wore that suit when I graduated from college—only five years ago—and I only bought it the year before that."

"It's practically new. Anyway it's got a lot of memories."

But women, to coin a new remark, don't give up easily. Every year since then I've had to fight an endless tug of war to keep my wardrobe.

My wife is always calling up the Salvation Army man to come take my old clothes, and I have to meet him at the door and pay him to go away empty-handed.

There is no real solution possible for this kind of marital warfare. And the reason is simple.

Women have no loyalty to old clothes because they have the idea that being up-to-the-minute in fashion makes them look younger.

Men, on the other hand, cling to old clothing because the old clothing makes them feel younger—and to heck with how it makes them look.

And there's the basic sex difference. A woman thinks she's as

Saved From Death

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Jean Allgayer found her son Ronnie, 4, nude and "heavily blue with cold" after two hours in a refrigerator Tuesday.

Ronnie told her he and a girl playmate used the refrigerator for a tub while they played "taking a bath." He shucked his clothes and crawled inside. The little girl slammed the door.

Mrs. Allgayer awoke from a nap and started hunting Ronnie in the apartment house where they live. Finally she heard Ronnie's muffled voice from an untenant apartment: "Mommie! Mommie! I'm here—get me out!"

At City-County Hospital, doctors ordered a hot bath for Ronnie. He appeared to suffer no ill effects.

Highlight Canned Sweet Cherries

There is nothing between now and Spring but a turn of the calendar. It is time for a cheering dessert, a sweet proclamation that a more bountiful season will soon reward us with its blessings. Western sweet cherries were canned during the sunny days of summer, when they were picked garnet red and ripe from the verdant orchards of the Northwest. Now with a stroke of a can opener, we can enjoy the sweetness of cherries of the past summer season.

Cherry Torte Squares are a simple but elegant dessert featuring this sparkling fruit. The base is a rich, tender crust of cookie crumbs, sugar and butter. On top of this is a smooth cheese mixture and then a layer of cherries in a glossy sauce.

Canned sweet cherries from the Northwest are available at your favorite market in dark or light varieties. The dark cherries may be Bing or Lambert; the light, Royal Anne. Their uses are many, and the varieties are interchangeable.

Cherry Torte Squares
 -1 can (No. 303) Sweet Cherries
 1/4 cup sugar
 2 tablespoons cornstarch
 1/4 teaspoon salt
 1 tablespoon lemon juice
 1 1/4 cups cookie crumbs
 1/4 cup powdered sugar
 1/4 cup melted butter
 2 packages (3-oz.) cream cheese
 1/4 cup sugar
 1/4 teaspoon salt
 2 eggs
 Drain cherries; measure 1/4 cup of the juice. Combine sugar, cornstarch, salt and lemon juice with cherry juice. Cook until clear and thick. Add pitted cherries; cool. Combine cookie crumbs, powdered sugar and butter. Press lightly into 8 x 8 x 2-inch pan. Cream cheese with sugar and salt, add eggs, beat until smooth. Pour over crust, bake at 375 degrees for 20 minutes. Cool. Place cherry mixture on top of torte. Serve with whipped cream. Makes 9 servings.

Cites Problem Posed by Communism

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon says the nonmilitary struggle between the United States and world communism poses a greater problem than any threat of armed attack.

He told an audience at the University of Notre Dame Tuesday night the struggle will be decided by which system wins out in the "uncommitted one-third of the world" in Africa, Asia and the Middle East.

"They want progress," he said. "They would prefer to have progress and change with freedom. That desire is one of our assets."

Nixon made the remarks when he accepted the annual patriotism award of the senior class at Notre Dame.

The vice president warned that any attack on this country would result in swift annihilation for the aggressor. He conceded the Soviet Union has "great military strength" but added: "We too have great military strength. It is designed to be of such magnitude that if an enemy attacked this country, we would have enough left to wipe the attacker off the face of the earth."

On domestic questions, he opposed direct federal subsidies to raise teachers' salaries and urged equality of opportunity for Negroes.

Faubus Fans Plan Shreveport Meet

SHREVEPORT, La. (AP)—A gas company engineer and a restaurant operator have called a meeting for tomorrow night to sound out public opinion on formation of a Faubus for President organization.

The engineer, R. B. Hamilton who will be temporary chairman of the group, said the guest speaker will be Col Tom C. Igoe, a Ruston, La., restaurant operator. Hamilton said Igoe is a personal friend of Arkansas Gov. Orval E. Faubus.

Hamilton said if sufficient interest is shown at the meeting a permanent organization will be formed among those who attend. He had no idea how many persons would be there.

Hamilton is an engineer for the Arkansas Louisiana Gas Co.

Union to Invest

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—The Amalgamated Clothing Workers Union may invest some of its funds in cooperative housing, if its members approve. Jacob Petofsky, president of the union, announced today the executive board will recommend to the union's convention, which meets in Miami in May, that where a project is assisted by municipal and state funds, union funds may be invested.

Murray a Candidate

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. James E. Murray (D-Mont) today became a candidate for renomination to the Senate seat he has held 25 years. Murray, 83, announced that a nominating petition was being filed in his behalf at the Montana Capitol in Helena.

Auto Is Almost Stamped Out

LOS ANGELES (AP)—You might say Frank S. Belville's 1950 sedan would stamp an indelible impression on just about anyone who saw it.

It is covered with postage stamps—75,000 to 100,000 of them. Belville, 66, a retired truck driver and amateur drummer, said he covered his drums with stamps. It made such a hit he decided to stick stamps on his car, too. He sealed the stamps, collected from all over the world, with varnish.

"What a job," he told newsmen Tuesday. "Put them on one at a time. But it was worth it. Just look at the people. They love it. Coming over here I waited for a traffic light at Hollywood and Vine. It caused a terrific traffic jam. An officer came over to see what the commotion was all about. He said my car was the damndest thing he had ever seen on wheels."

Regains Consciousness

OTSU, Japan (AP)—Toshiaki Tanaka, former world table tennis champion, regained consciousness today after a suicide attempt. Doctors said he probably would survive. Tanaka, who won the world singles title in 1955 and 1957, was rushed to a hospital Tuesday after taking poison in a hotel room.

Convention Seat to Prove Costly

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Anyone who wants to sit in on the Democratic National Convention, starting July 15, may do so—provided he contributes $1,000 for a pair of tickets.

A spokesman for the non-partisan host committee, which is giving the Democrats $450,000 for holding the convention in Los Angeles Memorial Sports Arena, says there will be no deviation from the price tag.

"The tickets will be $1,000 a pair," he said. "No one is going to get in for less."

The host committee points out the tickets are not for sale "but are being made available to people who want to make a contribution."

Protest Big Towers

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Rudy Vallee's neighbor's are protesting the crooner's plans to rent land on his $25,000 estate for installation of two 54-foot radio towers.

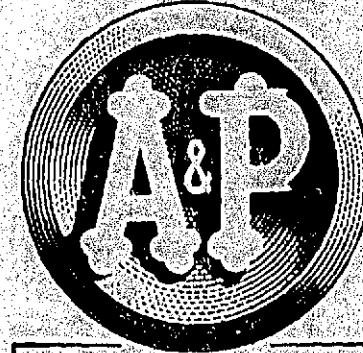

About 20 residents appeared at a zoning hearing Tuesday with petitions from 100 persons opposing the plan. They claim it would lower property values and downgrade the neighborhood.

Vallee planned to rent the land to Radio Corp. of America for $75 a month. RCA said the towers would be screened by existing tall trees.
